

Columbea cause of much concern

I might have missed a few but reading page 7 [Issue 55, FIFA u20 Championships], it appears you discovered a new country without the need of a telescope. That is, "Columbia" is mentioned five times. The funny side of it is that you got it right – Colombia – four times on the same page. Anyway, you lose 5–4. You need to switch your brand of coffee.

Erwin: Always wears the Colo Colo headband of truth

I received Issue 55 two days earlier, thanks. Keep greasing that Post Office.

— Erwin Landsberger, Kelowna, BC

■ You can't make me switch my coffee. Tim's is Canadian eh, not like that Cullombbiern mule piss you swill. I think Tim's beans are grown in the armpits of a secret Mennonite commune somewhere in Saskatchewan. Regardless, my apologies to the three Colombianites who checked out the pictures in Issue 55.

Arsenal fan misses the boat again

The 7-Eleven in Pitt Meadows sucks! Never seem to have a copy, and don't seem to know the product. Obviously not football fans. Probably support Man Utd.

Steve: At peace with his angst

— Steve Weir
PM u9 Wildcats Coach, BC

■ Just for a laugh, next time you find one at 7–Eleven, take it to the counter and ask the clerk, "Do you carry this!?" Be patient as the clerk first attempts to pronounce the title, then shakes the head in tortured fashion disclaiming non-compliance. Walk out with the copy! Please record your results and send us a monthly bar chart.

A little cut and paste

Even thee of great english writing stock and parsing doth make the odd mistake. May the wet noodles lash you in unforgiven places.

— Len McAdams, PCSL President

■ Issue 55's sponsored PCSL page featured an article by Richard Howes on Penticton Pinnacles 50th anniversary. The article was great but the headline actually belonged in Issue 54, and was never rewritten following the cut and paste. Let the wet noodle lashings begin.

LETTERS

Every dog his day

It has been brought

Darth 'Errol' Wild: Enjoys walks in the desert and second-rate football

Obi Wan McAdams: Once captained the u70 Guinness All-star squad to my attention that I and the Kamloops Mens Soccer League made the inside cover of your magazine [Issue 55, Publisher Blurp. You can forward me the article as I am unable to find any store in Kamloops who carry your publication. Yes I would even buy it to read about how I have become the Darth Vader of Kamloops soccer. I am assuming that you will afford me the same opportunity to defend my name and the actions of the KMSL, in your next article, that you took in smearing in your recent article.

— Errol Wild, KMSL President, Kamloops

■ We had hoped to take on the evil Empire and its Normtroopers in this issue but alas, as explained up front, we didn't have the room to do Darth, the entire Dark Side of Kamloops, and all the opposing forces of good, justice. The notion of a 'recreational' league over a 'developmental' league, and the dumbing down of competition, regardless of reasons, is a serious detriment to progress on a far larger scale. Though Wild's vision may be limited, his opinion is as valid as that of the clamped Kamloops City club and the progressive PCSL.

Introducing our latest spokeman...

Thanks very much and keep up the good work on the WFP. I love it and can't wait for the next one.
